

2022 Media Policy and Accreditation Procedure (Effective February 25, 2022)

The American Rally Association (ARA) was formed to sanction stage rallies in the United States with the goal of leading the continued growth of the sport. ARA has established a comprehensive media policy to allow for inclusive access and rights for accredited media. Accreditation is required to gain access to non-spectator ARA stage locations. The most current version of the policy will be available on the media page of the ARA website.

ARA Media Use Policy

Rules for Working Media

ARA requires that credentialed media be on a working assignment from a recognized outlet or team. The ARA will not provide access to non-working media, meaning media applicants are not allowed to freelance at the event without a working assignment. All media will be required to submit an assignment letter from an editor, team, or equivalent authority in order to receive credentials.

Levels of Accreditation

ARA has three media accreditation levels; ARA Media, Restricted and Unrestricted. These levels have been established to elevate the safety of all involved based on motorsports experience and the needs of all media personnel. ARA will assign one of these accreditation levels to approved media.

ARA Media or Orange ARA Media Vest

Media that is associated directly with the ARA, its media partners, events, sponsors or those deemed to have an exceptional amount of experience covering rally, earning them this additional accommodation(s) during events.

Unrestricted or Blue ARA Media Vest.

Designed for seasoned motorsports media professionals with extensive rally experience. Members of the press with Unrestricted access are permitted to work from any location that adheres to ARA policy on safety.

Restricted or Red ARA Media Vest

Designed for media professionals with limited rally or motorsports media experience. Those with limited access are allowed to a number of specified locations listed in the event media kit. Restricted media professionals can reapply at any time to be considered for an unrestricted accreditation.

ARA Licensing and Event Application Process

All media applicants must purchase either a Single Event or Annual ARA Media License. Purchase of the license does not give final approval for a media member to work at an event. If Media credentials are denied prior to an event, ARA License may be subject to a full refund.

The following process is in place effective February 25, 2022, for media applications.

- 1) Purchase an ARA Media License at www.rallylicense.com This will either be a single event or an annual license. If you choose a single event, you will be able to choose the specific event you will be working at. If you choose an annual license, you will be able to choose any or all of the events you wish to attend.
- 2) Roughly one month prior to the event, you will receive an email about applying for the upcoming event. That application will determine your approval level, as well as your media status for the event (restricted or unrestricted).
 - a. This application will also be linked on the ARA Media page on the ARA Website.
 - b. Once you have received approval for an ARA event in 2022, and you have an annual license, you will be given a code to by-pass the full application. (You will need to fill out part of the form, including the code, to apply for the event.)
- 3) You will receive approval 10-14 days prior to the event.
- 4) Media registration for each event will close 10 days prior to the start of the event. If you do not have your credentials, or those of your spotter or other team media in place, you will not be approved.
- 5) Media communication for each event will happen through Telegram and Sportity.
- 6) ARA Media and ARA Unrestricted Media will be required to have the RS Lite Tracking app in place during Recce and the Event. Additional information will be made available to the media prior to the event.
- 7) If you have any questions, please contact the ARA Marketing Director.

All ARA License holders will receive an electronic confirmation of their license, which they must keep on their phone or print while at the event.

On Stage Safety Procedures

ARA stage-side safety standards were created to help photographers/videographers remain out of the path of potential incidents. These standards will be reviewed and restated in the pre-event media briefing.

Requirements for Stage-Side Safety

Motor racing is a dangerous activity and all who participate as competitors, workers and attendees are primarily responsible for their own personal safety.

- 1) The racetrack (or stage), and adjacent areas, including service areas, are extremely dangerous locations during a competition.
- 2) Approved ARA Media members will avoid placing themselves in dangerous areas during the competition.
- 3) The ARA event organizers are responsible for ensuring that the stages are free of people in dangerous locations during the competition. They will use Trained Marshals on-stage, course opening cars, and sweep vehicles.
- 4) ARA event organizers are to use a standardized system to indicate “NO GO” and “OK” areas along stages:
 - a. Red/White “candy cane” or solid red tape to indicate dangerous areas off limits to all people during the competition.
 - b. Yellow tape to indicate less dangerous areas where people are allowed during the competition.
 - c. Not all areas along a stage road or away from spectators may be marked. These areas are always off limits to Restricted media.
- 5) Any person found violating the safety guidelines will be immediately removed from the area of the competition. The course opening cars have the authority to remove any media member from a stage. Cancellation or delay of a stage due to a media member’s actions will mean a two-year ban from that media member and its parent organization from all ARA events. The media member(s), and associated teams and organization(s) may also be subject to fines from the ARA or the event.

Media Requirements on Stages
